

Training in Asiago

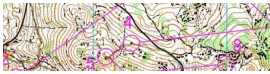

Written by Klaus Schgaguler
Friday, 13 May 2011 13:40

I was offered the possibility to come to Asiago with the Austrian national team for some training this week. It has been some time I was here last time and I wanted to get used to this kind of terrain before Italian champs this weekend. So here I am.

Route choice training and 2 sprints yesterday and control picking today so far. One more training this afternoon then I will be ready for the middle distance qualification tomorrow and the final on Sunday.

Maps:

Langabisa

Turcio

I really enjoy the terrain here and looking forward to this weekend's challenges.

p.s. pair training training in the afternoon

Training in Asiago

Written by Klaus Schgaguler
Friday, 13 May 2011 13:40

