

Here we go again

Written by Klaus Schgaguler
Friday, 06 June 2008 20:22

It has been awhile since my last post. I have simply been busy with work and training. A bad excuse, i know. I could give a summing up of the last two months, but this is already history. Better to look to the future. Two hard weeks are awaiting me: Italian Sprint champs (i will try to defend my title) and Italian Cup tomorrow and on Sunday, of course Jukola next weekend and then the World Cup races near Oslo the week after. After that the final preparation weeks and WOC (hopefully) in the middle of June. Will be a nice month.